These statements are presented to inform stakeholders of the views of Mitsui’s management but should not be relied on solely in making investment and other decisions. You should be aware that a number of important risk factors could lead to outcomes that differ materially from those presented in such forward-looking statements. Operating Environment

- Downside risk in global economy remains due to financial turmoil in euro area
  - Slowdown in growth rate of emerging economies and potential decline in commodity markets may impact our bottom line
- While gradual slowdown in the growth rates in the emerging and developing economies is expected due to tightening of monetary policies and decline in export volumes, underlying growth fundamentals remain positive.
- China’s growth will be sustained driven by resilient domestic consumption and investments required for urbanization of the interior regions.
- Potential higher volatility in crude oil prices due to geopolitical risks.

☑ Global economy is capable of showing modest recovery driven by growth fundamentals of the emerging economies.
☑ Extra care is required to monitor the downside risks in our operating environment and the commodities/foreign exchange markets. We continue to capture the growth opportunities in the emerging markets and meet the global demand based on a long-term view.
